On December 22, 2015, at approximately 4:30 pm, DPS Trooper Swango conducted a vehicle stop on a red Dodge Nitro for disregard of a traffic control device of slower traffic to keep to the right. The stop was conducted on Expressway 83 and Loma Blanca Rd. in Rio Grande City, Texas. At the vehicle stop, the driver and the front seat passenger, both USCs, identified themselves as Pedro BUENROSTRO and Martha RODRIGUEZ respectively. There were six passengers in the rear seat and the rear cargo area who were unable to provide any US identification and claimed to be illegally in the United States. Trooper Swango requested Border Patrol's assistance.

CONTINUATION:

Border Patrol arrived and interviewed everyone. The driver and passenger still claimed to be United States citizens, and the six rear seat/rear cargo passengers all claimed to be illegally in the United States. All 8 people were transported to the Rio Grande Border Patrol Station for processing.

PRINCIPALS' STATEMENTS:

Both BUENROSTRO and RODRIGUEZ were read their rights. Both stated they were willing to provide a statement without the presence of an attorney.

1- BURENSTRO told agents he and his girlfriend (RODRIGUEZ) were traveling to Laredo to visit family. She received a phone call on the way back, and they decided to stop at Whataburger. At the Whataburger in Rio Grande City, six subjects asked him for a ride to McAllen. The six then boarded the vehicle he was driving. According to BUENROSTRO, he never spoke to the six people again.

2- RODRIGUEZ told agents she and her boyfriend (BUENROSTRO) were planning on travelling to Laredo, but got into an argument, and didn't go after all. RODRIGUEZ stated she knows a man in San Benito who hires people to smuggle illegal aliens. RODRIGUEZ called the man and he gave them instructions wait for a call to pick up some illegal aliens. Since she needed the money, both RODRIGUEZ and BUENROSTRO agreed to transport the illegal aliens. Later, someone called her phone and told her to go to Garfield St. in Roma, Texas to pick up the people. RODRIGUEZ told agents the man in San Benito was supposed to pay both her and her boyfriend, but a price had not been discussed yet.

MATERIAL WITNESSES' STATEMENTS:

Both material witnesses were read their rights. Both stated they were willing to provide statements without the presence of an attorney.

1- Orbelina Jimenez-Rodriguez, a citizen of El Salvador, claimed he was charged $6,000 (USD) to be smuggled into the United States. After illegally crossing the Rio Grande River, the foot guide who was smuggling the group she was with, instructed them to board an SUV. The foot guide opened the door for them and then ran back to Mexico. Jimenez told agents she sat directly behind the driver. She identified both the driver and the passenger in separate photo lineups as BUENROSTRO and RODRIGUEZ respectively.

2- Cesar Flavio Canastuj-Tiu, a citizen of Guatemala, claimed he was charged $5,000 (USD) to be smuggled into the United States. After illegally crossing the Rio Grande River, a foot guide led the group to a paved road, where he instructed them to board a red SUV. According to Canastuj, he climbed over the rear seat and into the cargo area. Canastuj did not recall who was driving, but did identify BUENROSTRO and RODRIGUEZ in a photo lineup as the two people sitting in the driver's seat and front seat passenger.
